FLA Comments

This report was submitted with a corresponding corrective action plan to the FLA and was reviewed by FLA staff. In an effort to improve the effectiveness of remediation, the FLA has provided feedback and recommendations to the company, however the recommendations regarding the Social Insurance Contribution Base, Housing Provident Fund, and Hours of Work have not been agreed or incorporated by the company. The report is posted in its current state and is considered finalized. Updates on the progress of the corrective action will be posted when received by the company.

Understanding this Assessment Report

This is a report of a workplace assessment conducted by Fair Labor Association assessors following FLA's Sustainable Compliance methodology (SCI), which evaluates a facility's performance in upholding fair labor standards through effective management practices throughout the entire employment life cycle.

This report identifies violations and risks of noncompliance with the Fair Labor Association Workplace Code of Conduct in its assessment of the employment functions, and includes a description of the root causes of violations, recommendations for sustainable and immediate improvement, and the corrective action plan for each risk or violation as submitted by the company. This document is not a static report; rather, it reflects the most recent progress updates on remediation in the "Progress Update" section for each finding.

Summary of Code Violations

Companies that join the FLA agree to uphold the FLA Workplace Code of Conduct throughout their entire supply chain. The Code of Conduct is based on International Labour Organization (ILO) standards, and defines labor standards that aim to achieve decent and humane working conditions.

While it is important to note when violations of the FLA Workplace Code of Conduct occur, the purpose of these assessments is not simply to test compliance against a particular benchmark, but rather to develop an understanding of where and how improvements can be made to achieve sustainable compliance. Code of Conduct violations can be found throughout the course of an assessment of the employment and management functions, and are addressed in companies' action plans.

1-2. Factory set up periodically review procedure to relevant regulations and will follow the procedure to update accordingly.

FINDING NO.5

SUSTAINABLE IMPROVEMENT REQUIRED

FINDING TYPE: Recruitment, Hiring & Personnel Development

Finding Explanation

1. As there are no procedures in place for performance reviews, the factory does not conduct performance reviews for any of its workers. Therefore, the factory does not promote workers based on their job performance, and there is currently no system to promote workers.
2. Based on information provided by factory management, the factory does not currently employ any workers with disabilities, which is a violation of local legal requirements which state that at least 1.5% of the total workforce should be comprised of disabled workers. There are 405 workers in the factory; therefore, there should be at least 6 disabled workers. Furthermore, the factory does not contribute to the Employment Security Fund in lieu of employing disabled workers. The current practice violates the legal requirement and also carries the risk of discrimination based on the FLA Workplace Code and Benchmarks.

Local Law or Code Requirement

FINDING NO.6

IMMEDIATE ACTION REQUIRED

FINDING TYPE: Compensation

Finding Explanation

1. According to the social insurance contribution records from August 2016, the factory contributed to all five types of social insurance (work-related injury, medial, maternity, unemployment, and pension) for 117 of the 384 workers who are eligible for social insurance contributions. Of the eligible 384, 267 workers received only three types of insurance (work-related injury, medical, and maternity). The factory does, however, provide commercial work-related injury insurance to 29 workers, 21 of which are ineligible for the socially provided work-related injury insurance, as they had reached retirement age.
2. The factory does not provide social insurance based on workers' actual wages as required by law. Instead, the social insurance was paid based on the local minimum contribution base of CNY 2,420 (USD 348), rather than their actual monthly wages, which range from CNY 2,900 to CNY 3,400 (USD 417 to USD 489).
3. The factory does not enroll workers into the Housing Provident Fund, as legally required.
4. The factory only paid 200% of the normal wage for the outstanding annual leave of resigned workers instead of 300% of the normal wage, as legally required.

Local Law or Code Requirement

FINDING NO.8

SUSTAINABLE IMPROVEMENT REQUIRED

FINDING TYPE: Industrial Relations

Finding Explanation

FLA Comment: The Chinese constitution guarantees Freedom of Association; however, the Trade Union Act prevents the establishment of trade unions independent of the sole official trade union – the All-China Federation of Trade Unions (ACFTU). According to the ILO, many provisions of the Trade Union Act are contrary to the fundamental principles of freedom of association, including the non-recognition of the right to strike. As a consequence, all factories in China fall short of the ILO standards on the right to organize and bargain collectively. Recently, however, the government has introduced new regulations that could improve the functioning of the labor relations' mechanisms. The Amended Trade Union Act of October 2001 does stipulate that union committees have to be democratically elected at members' assemblies and trade unions must be accountable to their members. The trade union has the responsibility to consult with management on key issues of importance to their members and to sign collective agreements. It also grants the trade union an enhanced role in dispute resolution. In December 2003, the Collective Contracts Decree introduced the obligation for representative trade unions and employers to negotiate collective agreements, in contrast to the previous system of non-negotiated administrative agreements.
